A 200	Continued From page 31 environmental plan revealed resident living areas consisted of buildings 6, 7, 8 and 9. The plan indicated that a generator was not installed for either building 6 or 7. Residents in building 6 will be relocated to building 9 and those in building 7 to building 8. The plan indicated building 8's generator was a partially integrated power generation system which provides a fail-over for life safety, emergency lighting, and outlets etc. in the common areas. Building 9's generator was a fully integrated power generation system. During an interview on at 3:36 pm, the maintenance director said the facility had four fixed generators, one for each building, and two portable gas-powered generators. He said that sometime during the previous week he tried to turn on the fixed generator that powered building 7 and it would not start, citing the cause as a bad gas regulator. When asked what steps he took to have it repaired, he replied "none" then said "it's on the top of my list". He said the generators for buildings 6, 7 and 8 power the entire building and the one for building 9 powers the air conditioner, common area lights, bathroom, and red plugs. Observations made on revealed the following: At 3:57 pm the maintenance director was unable to start the two portable generators. At 4:06 pm building 9's fixed generator started. At 4:09 pm building 7's and 8's fixed generators did not start. At 4:10 pm the maintenance director said he did not know how to start them and suggested the surveyors return the next day with a promise he'd make sure they worked. A 200	Continued From page 37 environmental plan revealed resident living areas consisted of buildings 6, 7, 8 and 9. The plan indicated that a generator was not installed for either building 6 or 7. Residents in building 6 will be relocated to building 9 and those in building 7 to building 8. The plan indicated building 8's generator was a partially integrated power generation system which provides a fail-over for life safety, emergency lighting, and outlets etc. in the common areas. Building 9's generator was a fully integrated power generation system. During an interview on at 3:36 pm, the maintenance director said the facility had four fixed generators, one for each building, and two portable gas-powered generators. He said that sometime during the previous week he tried to turn on the fixed generator that powered building 7 and it would not start, citing the cause as a bad gas regulator. When asked what steps he took to have it repaired, he replied "none" then said "it's on the top of my list". He said the generators for buildings 6, 7 and 8 power the entire building and the one for building 9 powers the air conditioner, common area lights, bathroom, and red plugs. Observations made on revealed the following: At 3:57 pm the maintenance director was unable to start the two portable generators. At 4:06 pm building 9's fixed generator started. At 4:09 pm building 7's and 8's fixed generators did not start. At 4:10 pm the maintenance director said he did not know how to start them and suggested the surveyors return the next day with a promise he'd make sure they worked. At 4:14 pm building 6's generator did not start. At 4:17 pm a second attempt was made to start	A 200

The maintenance director said a gas company was coming to the facility on the next day to determine what was wrong with the gas going to building 7's and 8's generators. He said in the meantime, residents in buildings 7 and 8 will be moved to 6 and 9 in the event of a power outage. The maintenance director was unable to provide an updated plan to reflect the two additional fixed generators. Class III	A 200
