A 030	Continued From page 7 2. An observation of the residential areas was conducted at 10:30am on . Uneven flooring was observed in the common areas of building 100. The interior hallway, that ran the length of the building, and lead to all of the resident rooms, was uneven and buckling in several places up and down the hallway.vPhotographic evidence obtained. An interview was conducted with the Administrator on at 12:45pm. In the interview, she stated that they had several residents living in the 100 building. The vinyl flooring had been redone twice and it still kept coming up, buckling, because the floor base was uneven. The gluing of the vinyl flooring to the base flooring was not done correctly. They needed to get a new vender to come replace the flooring and do it correctly. They had several complaints from the residents. The Administrator produced email correspondances showing attempts at getting the building 100's floor fixed. Emails dated , and from the Administrator to corporate headquarters requested assistance to get the flooring repaired, and referenced the recurrent issues they were having. An interview conducted with a third party caregiver at 1:14pm on . In the interview, she stated she took care of some of the elderly residents there, living in the 100 building, and the floors were buckling. She had complained to the facility and the facility said they weren't going to fix it. Observations of the 100 building on at 2:10pm. Walking on the floor, it was evident the there were air pockets in a wavelike pattern, that when walked on, elicited a bouncing sensation. In some places, it was about 2 inches off the base floor. An interview was conducted with Resident #9 at 2:12pm on . She stated they put the flooring in last and it immediately started coming up because they didn't glue it down properly. They have complained about it but they won't do anything about it. A lot of people that live in the building (100 building) had problems walking and it was a trip hazard because it was uneven. An interview was conducted with Resident #10 at 2:15pm on . In the interview, he stated he and his wife moved in . When they moved in it was just a cement floor in the hallway. Then the workers came and glued the vinyl plank flooring down and they did not use enough glue. He told them they needed to put glue on the whole thing and they didn't. Then the flooring came up and they still haven't fixed it. They said they wouldn't. They were upset with this place but they had no where else to go. An interview was conducted with Resident #11 at 2:18pm on . In the interview he stated there was a buckle in front of his door about 2 inches high. He got seasick when he went down the hall, it was so bumpy. He moved in and they had not fixed the floor or anything else since then. His door would not close properly either.
