The findings include: On _____, when asked about the generator, the Manager could not identify the generator, initially pointing to the outside electrical meter panel. The Manager then stated, "We have a white box that is located on the side of the facility behind the fence." The Manager was eventually able to locate the generator but didn't know how to open the door to manually turn on the generator. The Manager admitted that she was unsure how to manually turn the generator on. Class III	A 200
