In the reach-in cooler number one (1), several items, including orange juice, tomato juice, ham, shredded cheddar cheese, bell peppers, sliced tomatoes, tomato paste, spaghetti sauce, lettuce, a sliced onion, cold slaw, sliced pears, parmesan cheese, and BBQ sauce were present without dates indicating when they were opened or when they expired. The prep table located next to the reach-in cooler revealed multiple seasonings with open lids, an open cup of salt with no lid, an open bag of bacon bits without an "opened" date, a five (5) pound container of peanut butter, a container of mixed peanut butter and jelly sitting out, without a date indicating when it was made or when it would expire. An additional prep table in the middle of the workspace area contained a cardboard box on the bottom shelf with gnats flying around inside it. Upon further investigation, several potatoes were found inside the box. The DM remarked, "That box is garbage because the garbage can was full and overflowing." Furthermore, flies were observed flying around in the kitchen prep and cook area. The return vent located to the left of the stove was heavily covered with dust. Additionally, five (5) lids for the steam table containers located on the bottom shelf of the steam table that were covered with grease and food crumbs. Three (3) fry baskets on top of the deep fryer contained old grease and crumbs. | M 815                                                                                           | clean and in good working condition, proper infection control practices with handwashing and wearing gloves are enforced, dishwashing temperatures are in normal range, trays are returned timely and fly prevention. She further emphasized that this practice is unacceptable as it could lead to foodborne illnesses. Additionally, she confirmed the maintenance supervisor was supposed to clean the return vent every other weekend and that it could cause food contamination when it is that dirty. Concerning the lids for the steam table, the DM stated, "those were from last night." She further stated that the three (3) fry baskets were used yesterday to cook lunch and that they were supposed to be cleaned daily, if used. The DM verbalized that one of the deep fryers didn't work and hasn't been in working condition for two to three months now. She confirmed that she submitted a work order with TELS (maintenance work request program) two to three months ago. During a second observation of the kitchen on 6/16/25 at 2:41 PM, two (2) half gallon pitchers of tea and lemonade were revealed sitting out on the drink station without a date.
