M0640	Continued from page 1 Incident – An occurrence or situation that is not consistent with the routine care of a resident or with the routine operation of the organization. This can involve a visitor, vendor, or staff member." During an observation and interview on 8/25/25 at 1:20 PM, Resident #1 was observed in his room in his bed with his right elbow noted to be covered in a dressing. He stated he has a disorder that makes him sweat even when he is cold and he prefers to be uncovered and undressed since the clothing and covers retain the sweat moisture. He stated several months ago, he asked the Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) #1 to use the heater his representative brought to him and the nurse was hesitant, but she did what he requested. Approximately an hour later, the next nurse came in and took the portable heater out of the room and noted redness and blisters on his right elbow and due to his spinal injury, he did not feel pain in this area. An interview with LPN #1 on 8/26/25 at 8:40 AM revealed she was asked by Resident #1 to use the heater that his family had brought him. She informed him that heaters were not allowed in the facility, but he convinced her that he had been using it and it was located in the closet. She acknowledged that she knew better than to do this, but against her better judgement, she set it up on a table approximately 3 feet from the resident as he requested. The time of this was approximately 11:00 PM, prior to her going home for the evening. Shortly after midnight, LPN #2 called her to ask her about the heater being by his bedside and informed her of the redness and blisters to his elbow. She acknowledged she made a mistake when she placed the heater in the resident's area and she knew better but was trying to do what the resident asked because he was cold. During a phone interview on 8/26/25 at 9:20 AM, LPN #2 revealed she and another Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) made their initial rounds and noted the heater at Resident #1's bedside and the redness and blisters to the resident's right elbow. She stated the resident told her he was not in pain and was unaware that the injury occurred. During an interview with the Administrator on 8/26/25 at 1:30 PM, it was revealed that space heaters were not allowed in resident rooms due to the fire risk and burn risk. An employee used the heater that the resident's family brought, and the resident received a burn to his right elbow. She confirmed the facility failed to provide a safe and hazard free environment for Resident #1 when a space heater was set up at his bedside and caused a burn.	M0640
